* Synthetic Fleece clothing is excellent for providing warmth while wicking away body moisture. It does not retain moisture and dries quickly when wet. Fabrics like Confortrel, Supplex, Polar Tech Fleece Polypropylene and others are ideal for camping and backpacking for this purpose.

 Wool clothing has natural oil in the fibers that retards the absorption of moisture, keeping you warmer than cotton would. Wool is highly recommended for cold weather camping. (Remember wool also requires special washing to avoid destroying it's natural oils.)

It is suggested that zip lock plastic bags be used to protect clothes, etc. from moisture. The Boy Scout Handbook is a great tool to assist in selecting/packing personal gear. If assistance is needed in selecting or purchasing backpacking gear please, see the SPL, Scoutmaster or one of his assistants.
